Dear`customer

The following terms and conditions must be read and signed for. These will be the terms under which we will accept the gown for cleaning. We take every effort when cleaning a gown however not all eventualities can be foreseen. There are risks associated every time a garment is cleaned

Please read the following terms and conditions and sign below to indicate that they have been understood & accepted.

- 1 No responsibility will be accepted if all marks and stains are not removed. We will ensure that we clean the gown to our best ability. If we believe that could be possible risk then we will contact you directly to seek advice.
- 2 No responsibility will be accepted for sequins, beads, embroidery, lace , zips or any such other trimmings if they become loose or are lost during cleaning. It is possible on many occassions that they were not securely attached to the gown before the cleaning process begun.
- 3 No responsibility will be accepted if any such beads, sequins, embriodery, lace, zips or other such trimmmings become discoloured or damaged during the cleaning process Such items are not always suited the the cleaning process however manufacturers will label the gown and not always the trimmings
- 4 The first time the gown is cleaned may result in slight differences in shading of panels and may become apparent after cleaning, it is possible that the gown will loose texture
- 5 If we believe that that is damage prior to cleaning we will contact you directly to seek advice
- 6 We will not accept cleaning without a form filled in and signed by the customer
